Aid to Governor;
Tempo Increases

Dewey Assails Lehman's Record as Administrator; Governor Is Silent About New York Mayor's Stand

Dewey Replies

Prosecutor Answers Governor on Charge of Soft-Pedaling on Utility Question

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Governor Lehman and his Republican opponent, Thomas E. Dewey, stepped up their campaign tempo today on the heels of a report that Mayor LaGuardia would support the Democratic executive for reelection.

Dewey, assailing the governor's record as an administrator, and Lehman, accusing the prosecutor of "a shocking lack of experience," both planned three campaign addresses today.

The governor refused to comment on a New York Times story that LaGuardia had decided to support Lehman's reelection, but asserted he was "encouraged by developments" and the "size and increased enthusiasm" of New York campaign crowds.

LaGuardia, prior to his reported support of Lehman, asserted after a Hyde Park conference with President Roosevelt, October 21, he would not support any candidate who failed to come out "firmly" for the New Deal.

Lehman's Only Mention

Lehman's only mention of Mr. Roosevelt thus far has been to urge support of congressmen who would aid "our great President in his program of progressive and humane legislation."

Lehman is scheduled for three speeches tonight in Mount Vernon, the Bronx and Harlem while Dewey said he would speak before a New York advertising club this afternoon and in the Bronx and the Manhattan Opera House at night.

Dewey last night replied to Lehman's challenge he had "soft-pedaled" the utilities issue with the assertion that "New York is one of the nine most backward states of America in getting cheap electricity for its people."

Referring to the governor's claim that the Democratic administration's public utility program was "a great victory for all consumers," the district attorney retorted in a Bronx speech that "the measure of victory is measured in your electric light bills."

"Utility regulation in this state," he said, "has become today so ineffectual that it is little more than horse trading."

Compromise Reductions
Dewey maintained that 75 per cent of rate reductions resulted from compromises. Of 93 cities with more than 100,000 population, he added, 68 had lower rates for 40 kilowatt hours in 1937 than New York city.

In unscheduled stops at Harlem he urged support of a constitutional amendment carving new legislative districts—a proposal opposed by Democrats as "grossly unfair"—and declared that under its provisions negroes would be given the opportunity to have a representative in the state senate for the first time.

Lehman, meanwhile, told a Jamaica high school, Queens audience that Dewey, "to achieve his ends has made many inaccurate statements" regarding the governor's six-year administration.

"Furthermore," he added, "he has demonstrated a shocking lack of experience and a shocking lack of knowledge of the governmental affairs of the state."

State Bureau Expects
No Polls Congestion
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)—The state election bureau isn't worried about possible congestion at the polls next Tuesday.

Despite the added time which may be necessary to vote on the nine proposed constitutional amendments, the bureau predicted yesterday that a great many of the 5,557,845 registered voters would not vote on the amendments.

Most of the balance, bureau officials said, have decided already on how they will vote. State wide use of election machines is expected to preclude any serious voting jam, they added.

W. A. Wright Resigns
As Boy Scout Executive

Serves for 9 Years

WILLIAM A. WRIGHT

Victor Watson, 58,
Dies in PlungeWidely-Known Hearst Executive
Was Managing Editor

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Victor Watson, 58, for many years an editor and executive in the Hearst newspaper organization, plunged to his death today from an 11th floor window of the Hotel Abbey in West 51st street.

A note found in the room, for which he had registered only a few minutes before, under the name of George L. Jones, of 643 N. Halstead street, Chicago, said: "God forgive me for everything."

Watson was widely known in the newspaper field, having held executive posts on Hearst newspapers in Chicago and Boston before coming to New York. Until two months ago he was managing editor of the New York Journal and American and recently had been in the promotion department of the Hearst general management.

Watson at one time was assistant publisher of the old New York American, since merged with the Journal, and had been managing editor and editor of the New York Daily Mirror.

The body, which landed on a third floor extension, was identified by Dr. David L. Poe, Watson's personal physician, and Dr. Carlton Simon, a friend.

Popular Leader Ends 9-Year
Service in Kingston Area to Assume Duties at Union County, N. J.

Scout Executive William A. Wright, who has directed activities of the Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts of America, for the past several years has resigned his office here and will take charge of scouting activities in Union County, N. J., it was announced today by R. F. Overbaugh, of Saugerties, president of the council.

Mr. Wright's resignation was accepted at a meeting of the executive committee of the council held last evening at the Statens Hotel. He had been head of scouting in this area for nearly nine years.

Complete Surprise

Mr. Overbaugh said that Mr. Wright's resignation came as a complete surprise to the members of the committee and was accepted with great regret on his part and on the part of the other members of the committee, but that all were glad to learn that Mr. Wright was to be transferred to a larger field of work and that the promotion would carry with it an increase in salary.

He added that during his stay here scouting in the two counties had made great advancement and now stood at the highest peak in its history, with a record membership and with the finance campaign just drawing to a close showing the best results of any of those that have been held.

Nearly all of the 28 members of the executive committee of the council were present at the dinner held at the Statens last night and at the meeting which followed, when President Overbaugh presented Mr. Wright's resignation. The vote of appreciation for the fine work done by Executive Wright was unanimous.

A committee composed of Arthur J. Burns, Dr. H. W. Keator, of Kingston, Dr. L. H. Van der Berg of New Paltz, J. Frank Lackey of Tannersville, and C. D. Raymond of Ellenville was named to act with the president in selecting a new executive to succeed Mr. Wright. They will at once interview applicants for the position and hope to make a selection within the near future, so that there may be no let-up in the work of the office.

Mr. Wright's resignation is effective as of December 1.

Mr. Wright came to Kingston to assume charge of scout work in Ulster county in March, 1929, after eight years experience as scout executive in St. Lawrence county. Previous to that he had been stationed at Lockport for two years. A native of Oswego, he was for many years active in scouting as a lay worker and scoutmaster, before taking up executive work.

U. S. Engineering Department
Official Says Rondout Creek
Rock Hardest Found in 38 Years of Drilling

Rock, which is thought to be the hardest ever to be drilled in the United States, was struck in the Rondout creek off the Hiltibrant boat yard by the United States Engineering Department, which for the last two months has been busy drilling and blasting a ledge which lies across the channel of the creek and has been a hazard to navigation for years, it was learned today.

The drilling and blasting operations are under the supervision of William Baldwin of the United States Engineering Department. The drill boat in the creek operates 16 hours a day in two eight-hour shifts under Captains Harry Welsh and Milton Pulford.

Captain Pulford says, "This is a specimen of rock unknown to the department's office. We sent samples to our laboratory at Albany and the results of analysis showed the rock to be composed of flint and quartz."

To prove its hardness one man cut glass with the rock. Also, hammering upon it with a sledge hammer has very little effect.

Captain Pulford said that in his 38 years of working on drill boats covering an area from Duluth, Minn., to Boston Harbor, he never has drilled into such hard rock. Three times previously attempts were made to remove this rock from the channel of the creek but the attempts were futile.

"Although shattered to a certain extent, we are making progress," said Mr. Pulford. "It was necessary for us to send for special steel to make our drills for this job, our regular drills would not withstand the penetrating of this rock," he said.

The boat drills an average of six holes which are then loaded with approximately 30 pounds of explosives which contain 60 per cent dynamite. Captain Pulford said, "a heavier charge could be used but by request of the residents of Connelly the less powerful charges are being used." At times when the blasts are set off a spout of water may be seen to shoot some 20 to 30 feet in the air. After the drilling and blasting operations are finished a United States engineering dredge of the clam shell type will come and remove the rock. This rock is part of the dredging project started by the government in the Rondout creek during the summer.

Police Seek Bones
In Ukrainian Hall
Of Kidnap Victims

Search During Night Uncovered Evidence Believed by Police to Be Part of Arthur Fried's Body

Stains on Chute

Apparent Blood Stains Reported; Secret Chamber Is Found Off Basement

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Police dug into the cement basement of Ukrainian Hall today seeking buried bones of possible victims of a "kidnap syndicate" accused by federal agents of slaying one man and collecting ransom for the release of at least two others.

Pickaxes during the night unearthed the first gruesome evidence in the macabre search—several bones believed by police to be part of the body of Arthur Fried, young White Plains business executive who was kidnaped last December 4 and held for $200,000 ransom.

Two of the smaller pieces appeared to be the remains of teeth.

J. Edgar Hoover, who announced the arrests, turned over assistants of Manhattan District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey three of the four men he accused of shooting Fried to death and burning his body in the lodge hall's furnace after failing to collect the ransom.

A fourth suspect, Joseph Stephen Sacoda, 27, named by the chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as the actual slayer, is now in Sing Sing for parole violation.

Coal Chute Stains
Police said stains apparently made by blood had been found on a coal chute leading to the cellar. They also announced discovery of a secret room adjoining the basement and expressed belief it might have been used as a gangland execution chamber.

Lieutenant Thomas Curley reported finding a machine gun hidden in the room and said walls of the chamber were marked by about 15 holes seemingly made by bullets.

In a second hidden room, Lieutenant Curley said, a box containing a number of counterfeit federal revenue stamps and liquor bottle labels had been discovered. Assistant District Attorney Jacob J. Rosenblum continued questioning the three men—Demetrius Gula, 30, a pinball operator, John Virga, 34, a clothes presser, and William Jacknis, a WPA playground instructor accused of serving as the "finger man" for the gang.

Double Charges
Rosenblum said the men would be held on double kidnap charges in two other abductions but that no action would be taken against them in the Fried case pending completion of the police basement search and the laboratory analysis of the bones.

Benjamin Farber, 23, a Brooklyn coal dealer who Hoover said paid $1,900 for his release after the gang abducted him last April 18, expressed surprise at the detention of Jacknis.

Farber said that when members of the gang had asked him to name an intermediary, he had suggested Jacknis as "one of my pals."

G-men said, however, that his estrawed friend was the one who betrayed Farber to the syndicate as a potential victim.

The other Brooklyn kidnaping to which Hoover said "certain ones" of the quartet had confessed was the abduction of Norman Miller, 19, for whose release his father, head of a stevedoring concern, paid $13,000. Federal agents said it was young Miller's remarkable memory for sounds heard during his captivity that enabled them to find the hideout.

State Board Asks
That TB Clinic
Broaden Activity

Report Released Today Has High Praise for the Manner in Which Hospital Here Is Conducted

A recommendation that clinics at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital be broadened if possible was included in a report of the annual survey made by a state department of health representative, made public today.

The report, which highly commends the manner in which the institution is operated, follows:

Report of the annual survey of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital as made by a representative of the tuberculosis division of the New York state department of health:

The management of the institution, both from the administrative and from the medical point of view, has been maintained on a high level of efficiency. The property is kept in good repair and it is evident that the patients are well cared for.

The collapse therapy program is well developed, all suitable cases being offered the benefits of pneumothorax treatment, as well as of other forms of thoracic surgery. As a result of this, a large number of pneumothorax cases can be discharged with negative sputum after a relatively short stay in the hospital and be continued under treatment and supervision in the out-patient department.

The number of clinics held by the out-patient department has been increased to four clinics weekly, a total of 212 having been conducted in the hospital during the year. A total of 1,267 patients were examined for a total of 2,464 examinations. These figures are well above the minimum standards established by the New York State Association of Sanatorium Superintendents and Board of Managers, and the ratio of the number of examinations to the number of patients examined is indicative of an active follow-up service.

However, because of the fact that recent studies seem to suggest the necessity of an upward revision of such minimum standards, it is recommended that all efforts be directed toward further increasing and enlarging, if possible, the clinic activities.

Business Men Lay
Plans for Festive
Christmas Season

Saint Nick Himself to Preside Over Community Tree, if Plan Is Carried; Groups Are Named Today

Although Christmas is still several weeks away, the Kingston Business Men's Association at its regular meeting this morning took up the matter of Christmas lighting, decorations in the business sections and also the possibility of a community Christmas tree over which Santa Claus may preside.

The question of setting in contact with the jovial old gentleman and making final arrangements for his appearance in Kingston was left to Alex Mollett, chairman of the "Santa Claus" Committee which is composed of the following members: Messrs. Herzog, Hardinbergh, Shults, Seudder and Wondorff.

In order to carry on the Christmas activities for the association, President Jim Rowe also appointed a "soliciting committee" which will visit the members of the association for a small donation to carry on Christmas activities.

This committee will have charge of soliciting funds to carry out Christmas shopping promotion work and also for a community tree, if such action is desired.

All Christmas lighting and decorating will be done individually by the merchants. On the committee to visit the members and solicit donations is L. Weiner, chairman, and the Messrs. Mollett, Bernstein, Radner, Al Flanagan, Rowe and Smith.

The Kingston Business Men's Association will have a basketball team in the City League. Several of the merchants have donated a uniform for the team and the association this morning voted to meet the expense of one uniform.

In connection with the Christmas holiday season the matter of store hours again came up for its airing and as a result the association went on record as favoring late store hours for only one week before Christmas.

The association voted to keep their stores open evenings for one week prior to Christmas, beginning December 13. There was a unanimous vote that one week was sufficient for evening shopping.

The matter of opening a school for training clerks was deferred until after Christmas. There is a state and federal project which may be applied to Kingston whereby classes are held for the training of clerks in salesmanship.

A proposition was presented that the association members rent a large store in the uptown section for a month prior to Christmas and there display in individual booths the various merchants.

Letter Written to Norristown,
Pa., Employees Says 'No Excuse
Will Be Accepted' Concerning Rally

No Funds Asked

Investigators Say No Request Made by Leaders at Meeting for Money

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—The senate campaign expenditures committee called "Indefensible" today a phrase in a Democratic campaign letter which warned WPA workers that "no excuse will be accepted" for their failure to attend a political rally held in Norristown, Pa., October 23.

The committee said it had been unable to determine how many federal WPA workers attended the meeting as a result of the letter, signed by Joseph F. McElwee.

The letter said the meeting was being held "at the direction" of Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) and David L. Lawrence, state Democratic committee chairman.

McElwee is a member of the Pennsylvania State Compensation board and a local official of the Democratic party.

McElwee later denied, in an affidavit obtained by the senate committee's investigators, that Guffey or Lawrence had any knowledge of the letter, which read as follows:

"Fellow Democrat—
"At the direction of Senator Guffey and Mr. Lawrence, a joint meeting of all state, federal and WPA workers will be held at the city hall in Norristown on Saturday morning, October 29, 1938, at 10 o'clock promptly.

"There will be no excuse accepted for lack of attendance.
"This meeting will be addressed by Mr. Bashore and Mr. Lawrence."

Committee investigators said the meeting was addressed only by Ralph M. Bashore, state secretary of labor and industry and secretary of the state Democratic committee. The investigators said no requests for campaign contributions were made at the meeting.

"While it is the opinion of the committee that no objection can be made to invitations of a general nature inviting state and federal government workers to a political meeting," Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) said in a formal statement, "the committee is of the opinion that the phrase 'there will be no excuse accepted for lack of attendance,' addressed to WPA workers on relief is indefensible and that it is in the nature of an implied threat and a grave interference with the right of relief workers to be free from coercion in the exercise of their political rights."

The committee said McElwee declared the letter had been sent only to state employees despite the fact that WPA workers were specifically addressed in it.

Reviewing its investigation of two Democratic campaign fund solicitation letters previously sent out with the names of Senator Guffey and Governor George H. Earle, Democratic senatorial nominee, on the letterhead, the committee said it had been unable to obtain sworn statements from WPA workers that they had received the letter.

Fewer Beefsteaks

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—America's supply of beefsteaks will be smaller next year, the agriculture department said today, but the reduction will be offset by increased production of pork chops, bacon and ham.

More cattle may be produced, the department said, but fewer were expected to be slaughtered. Many farmers, it explained, intend to hold a large number of cattle for restocking and herd expansion.

Navy Is Preparing To Resume Experiments

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Navy, after three years, is preparing to resume its experiments with airships on a cautious scale.

Completion of a personal study by President Roosevelt resulted in an announcement yesterday that the new dirigible which Congress authorized would be small in comparison with its predecessors.

It will have less than one-sixth of the bulk of the ill-fated Akron and Macon. Its maximum length of 325 feet contrasts with their 785 feet and with the 650 feet of the decommissioned Los Angeles, which the new craft will replace.

Special Program Planned For Trinity M. E. Church

A program of favorite hymns similar to that given last Sunday evening at the Trinity M. E. Church will be given next Sunday evening. It was announced today.

The service will start at 7.15 o'clock, and will include special musical numbers. The Rev. Dr. Deming will bring the message.

Alabama farmers sold $280,000 worth of produce on the 15 curb markets operating in the state during the nine months of 1938.

Planning for Parties

Let's plan parties for the entire family. Of course, these aren't specific parties; but rather little visuals of how easily we might have a party—and how inexpensively.

MOTHER'S PARTY

Mother entertains at tea, of course! That's because mother is always thrifty—saving time and labor as well as pennies. Then, too, mother never loses sight of the genuine hospitality offered when she serves a steaming cup of tea in mid-afternoon—the cup that cheers as well as "picks you up." For eight guests, mother can serve tea with sugar, cream or lemon, and cake or cookies at a total cost of 40¢—just a nickel a guest.

FOR SISTER

For sister, let's plan a bridge party—or maybe it's the "sewing circle" that's due to meet at her home. Regardless of the reason, there'll be plenty of chatter and laughter and song, I hope. And if it's not a "duty" party, then may I suggest that sister entertain just a few close friends at a pajama party. The very informality of the affair is sure to make for fun, and if the guests are led into the kitchen to pop corn, make fudge or peanut brittle or candy apples, there'll be no need for other entertaining and probably little need for other refreshments. If the guests are to remain over night, serve a cup of hot cocoa with graham crackers as a bedtime snack.

FOR BROTHER

Big brother or little brother ought to have a hand in the entertaining game, too—a real stag party all their own. If it's birthday time, then that's reason enough. But birthday time or no, it's always time for a hobby party. Maybe some of the boys collect stamps or arrowheads, make model ships or airplanes—or do any of the one hundred and one things that boys consider hobbies. Why not encourage them to bring their hobbies over to the house for an evening of hobnobbing with hobbies? For them, the Cranberry Waffle Shortcake with postum or hot chocolate makes an ideal repast. Earlier in the evening, provide plenty of apples, nuts, popcorn and toffee for the munchers.

WHAT ABOUT DAD?

Dad has friends, too. But a stag party for Dad means a party minus the family. Poker or rummy usually is the calling card and the refreshments should be ready and waiting for Dad to serve in his own fashion.

Check the shopping list carefully to make sure all the old favorites are included: sardines, pretzels, crackers, cheese, ham, mustard, pickles and olives, rye and white bread, beer and ginger ale.

PRUNE HONEY LAYER CAKE

Salt Brings Out Flavor

Are you using enough salt in your cooking—particularly in your baking? Don't forget that salt brings out the flavor of the other ingredients and that the more salt you use, just short of the point where it can be tasted, the better the flavor of your baking. This applies also to cooking.

Save steps on wash day. Keep a can of household cleanser in the laundry for cleaning wringer rolls, tubs, washing machine, etc.

CRANBERRY WAFFLE SHORTCAKE**

with fruit cake for dessert for them as wants it. It surely is fun to plan parties for the entire family.

PRUNE HONEY LAYER CAKE

1 cup cooked prunes, 2 tablespoons fresh orange peel cut into very thin strips, 1 cup granulated sugar, ½ cup strained honey, ¾ cup margarine, 3 eggs, ½ cup milk, ¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons baking powder and ½ teaspoon soda.

Pit prunes and mash to a pulp. Cream sugar, honey and shortening, add beaten eggs and mix thoroughly. Add prunes, orange peel and mix. Add milk alternately with flour which has been sifted with baking powder, salt and soda. Beat well, pour into three greased layer cake pans and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Put layers together and spread top and sides with boiled icing. Serves 12.

CIDER GELATINE SALAD

Soften one tablespoon gelatin in two tablespoons cold water, to which two tablespoons lemon juice have been added. Then add one-fourth cup granulated sugar and one and three-fourths cups hot cider; stir until gelatin and sugar are dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened, then add one and one-half cups diced apples and one-half cup diced celery. Turn into individual molds and chill until firm. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves with mayonnaise and a topping of two tablespoons chopped nuts.

CRANBERRY WAFFLE SHORTCAKE**

1 recipe vanilla waffle batter, 1 can cranberry sauce or 2 cups cooked and sweetened cranberries, 2 cups crushed pineapple, ½ cup orange juice and lemon juice mixed, ¼ cup chopped Brazil nuts, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons granulated tapioca and ½ cup granulated sugar.

Combine cranberry sauce, pineapple and fruit juices and heat slowly. Add salt, sugar and tapioca and cook, stirring frequently, for 15 minutes or until tapioca is transparent. Remove from fire and add Brazil nuts. Serve hot or cold over freshly made waffles, topping with a second waffle, sandwich fashion. Two waffles should yield 4 servings. Top with whipped cream or marshmallow topping, if desired.

SPANISH CORN

1 can corn, ¼ cup grated cheese, ½ cup sliced stuffed olives, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 can chicken tamales or 2 Mexican sausages, 2 tablespoons butter, ¾ cup grated cheese.

Blend corn, cheese, olives and paprika. Add tamales cut in eighths, dot with butter, sprinkle with cheese and heat thoroughly in oven. Serve with cabbage salad, hard rolls, butter and pumpkin pie.

P.T. A. Sponsoring Animal Exhibit Near High School

The Federated Parent-Teacher Association of the Kingston public school has brought to this city something new in the way of novel entertainment. At 442 Broadway, opposite the high school, may be seen a collection of wild and domestic animals and birds owned by John H. Thellie, Jr., of Catskill, and better known in the show world as the Thellie Zoological Exhibit. The exhibit will be here until Saturday.

For many years Mr. Thellie, in partnership with James Mistrof, owned the Circus Royal, a three-ring circus that was widely known throughout the United States. When this business failed, Mr. Thellie turned to a new field; that of importing and exporting wild and domestic animals and now has his exhibit in addition to his unique business.

Included in the collection, now being shown in Kingston, are eight monkeys from Africa, India and Central America, a Japanese Sika deer, a Tigua lizard imported from Central America, and a honey bear that also came from one of the country's in Central America. Among the fowl on display are several varieties of parrots and doves, a perfect pair of crown cranes, and a grey pelican, "who's bill can hold more than his belly can," says Jim Mistrof, who is in charge of the menagerie. One of the unique attractions is the cassowary, imported from New Guinea, which closely resembles the turkey and the ostrich but has quills like a porcupine.

Plans for Ball Now Completed

All preparations were reported completed today for the annual Victory Ball to be given by the local Post of the American Legion at the municipal auditorium, Armistice Day, November 11.

Legionnaire P. J. Beichert, who is in charge of the ball of entertainment, announced that the last act will finish promptly at 10 o'clock at which time dancing will be in order.

A special color scheme for decoration of the auditorium has been designed by Roy Jacob. Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., who is in charge of the music announces that it will be of the best available in the city.

Osborne Attacks Dewey Campaign In Accord Speech

Lothgow Osborne, state conservation commissioner, addressing a Democratic rally at Odd Fellows Hall, Accord, last night, took the campaign that Thomas E. Dewey has been waging against municipal corruption, with affairs in the city of Albany, as the basis for an argument that Dewey seeks to make the chief executive's office a "central district attorney's office."

According to Mr. Osborne, these matters come under the lead of "local affairs" and should be taken care of by the municipalities themselves. He said that the charges made by Dewey of lack of law enforcement by the government in local affairs was "so fantastic that the people in the home town could see that it involved their most cherished right of home rule."

"Mr. Dewey has made no charge of corruption in the administration of state affairs," the speaker said, adding that "his philosophy is that the governor should be the moral guardian of every city, county and village."

Commissioner Osborne said Governor Lehman had acted quickly when municipalities had asked for investigation in racketeering or corruption and had removed officials when he had found that they should be removed, after he had been asked to take steps by local governments.

He admitted that Dewey had "done fairly well" when appointed special prosecutor by Governor Lehman and had become a "headline personality, something which the G. O. P. lacked in this state for many years."

Mr. Osborne saw the voters as "well aware that with Governor Lehman they will get a balanced budget and good government," and that the campaign sums up to "knowledge and assurance vs. hope and guesswork."

Other speakers at the Accord rally included John J. Miller, former candidate for member of assembly, who spoke of the benefits to farmers from Democratic measures, although he termed the 25-cent differential in milk price in this area unfair; Walter Donatunuma, who presided at the meeting; Mrs. Mary O'Connor, Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker, Eugene C. Carey, John C. Shuts, Michael Galletta and Chris J. Flanagan.

of Ulster and Greene counties into one scout council and since that time has seen the work grow until today there are 46 scout troops in the council, with a membership on September 1 this year of 866 scouts. He has brought the work of the scout office up to date, with a complete file of records covering all troop activities since he became the executive here and each year has compiled and published reports that gave in detail all phases of scout activity in the two counties.

Outside of scouting Mr. Wright has been active in other civic movements. He is a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, of the Kingston Ministerial Association, of the Ulster County N. Y. A. and a member and one of the originators of the City Recreation Committee.

Mr. Wright's new field of work will be in Ulster county, N. Y., where he will be executive of one of the best organized councils in the region, the territory embracing a large portion of Ulster county, including the city of Elizabeth. The council has a total of 97 units, including 60 Boy Scout troops, 29 Cub Packs and eight Sea Scout units.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright will probably leave Kingston on or shortly before December 1. Their daughter, Jean, who entered New Paltz Normal School this fall, expects to complete her first year in that institution.

Downtown Rally Draws Big Crowd

Several local Republicans including Mayor Conrad J. Heise and City Judge Matthew V. Cahill addressed a meeting of the Downtown Republican Club at a meeting last evening in the hall of Congregation Ahavath Israel.

Both the mayor and city judge spoke on the record of Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate for governor and the mayor reviewed common errors made in the use of voting machines, which he said, often mean the loss of votes and frequently cause contests when elections are close.

Other speakers included Naco St. John's Episcopal Church, of the Kingston Ministerial Association, of the Ulster County N. Y. A. and a member and one of the originators of the City Recreation Committee.

ALBANY CORRUPTION

That Republican Candidate Thomas E. Dewey's forthright campaign against corruption in New York state, with special reference to widespread frauds against the election laws in Albany county, has stirred the people of the state as they have not been moved for a long time, becomes more and more evident every day.

His Albany speech, a large portion of which was broadcast, opened the eyes of many to conditions which they had not believed possible could exist in this state. He told of registration in the city of Albany that exceeded by several thousand the total of all adults listed in the city directory. He told of outrageous and absolutely unjust rises in the assessment of properties owned by those who had opposed the "organization" that rules Albany with an iron hand—and of ridiculously small assessments placed on properties owned by those who "voted right." He told of voters who voted "early and often" and the very considerable sums of money they received for their part in packing the ballot boxes. He told of the restaurant keepers who are forced to handle one certain brand of beer, despite the protests of their patrons, under pain of losing their licenses. He told of hand-picked grand juries, of election booths with thin curtains and strong lights, making secrecy of the ballot practically impossible, and he told of other things which make a mockery of decent government and of the election laws.

These disclosures were not new to many of his hearers, but it is quite evident, from the reaction which followed Dewey's Albany speech, that a large portion of the electorate had little or no idea of the extent to which corruption had obtained a hold in Albany county.

Tammany in its worst days had little if anything on the Democratic machine which the O'Connell brothers run with a ruthless hand in Albany county.

Its corrupt influence is felt far beyond the confines of Albany county. Kingston, for instance, is within that sphere of influence and there are numerous instances where it has been felt here.

That Governor Lehman and other members of the state administration have known nothing of this corruption which strikes at the very base of decent government is unbelievable. That they have been powerless to take action on the side of justice and decent government, allowing that they wanted to, can be true but for one reason—that their hands were tied because of fear of the O'Connell machine.

Thomas E. Dewey has promised that if elected governor he would clean up the mess. His record to date has shown that he is capable and willing to do just that thing.

It certainly looks as if a vote for Dewey was in a very real sense a vote for decency and honesty in government in New York state.

THE RADIO SCARE

Regarding Orson Welles' startling radio performance last Sunday evening, many listeners may have been dumb or excitable or unduly credulous, but it is easier to blame the performers than the audience. There are important facts which should be, particularly in these times, in the mind of every radio executive and broadcaster.

The human race has been lately in a state of abnormal excitement and fear. The effects of wars, hardships, political collapses and general uncertainty as to what a day or week might bring forth have been cumulative. We had just passed through the worst war scare in a generation, with whole nations fearing air raids, and the Munich affair left millions in a state of jitters. Still in mind, too, was the worst hurricane in history.

Suddenly then, out of the air, came radio bulletins telling of a terrible and unprecedented catastrophe, of a comet striking, of strange beings landing from the sky, of American cities burning and populations gassed, with names and places given in the most realistic way. Thousands of listeners had not heard the preliminary explanations.

No wonder nerves cracked and radio studios and newspaper offices were flooded with frenzied calls.

The American people, Dr. Gallup reports, are two to one against "$30 every Thursday." Not against the money, you understand, but against gambling on such a pleasant dream.

Another thing our civilization could do without is the crime and horror magazine. And half the other magazines.

The ability of a country to govern itself is in reverse ratio to the number of its political parties.

This business upturn must be the real thing, when it doesn't even wait to see how the election's coming out.

These are certainly abnormal times, with employers hiring men wholesale before election.

Europe seems mostly engaged in finding out what Hitler wants and giving it to him.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.
INSULIN TO CURE ACNE

As sufferers with acne (pimples) suffer so much mental distress and embarrassment, anything that may help them in getting rid of this disfigurement is very much worth while.

For years it has been found that some of these cases improved when starch foods—sugar, pastry, bread, and potatoes—were decreased, so that anything that would lower the amount of sugar in the blood has been considered good treatment as starch turns to sugar in the system. Thus the injection of pituitary extract, which seems to hasten the digestion and use of starch in the system, has given good results in many cases. The viosterol treatment which stimulates body processes has given brilliant results in most of the cases in which it has been used from one to three months.

A most interesting discovery has recently been made which would seem to prove that starch foods and their handling by the body tissues has much to do in causing acne as was reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association some months ago by Dr. Joseph Wortis.

As you know, the latest treatment for dementia praecox is to administer a large dose of insulin which produces what is known as insulin shock. In the successful cases, when the patient recovers, his mind is clear and often remains that way. It happened that in six of Dr. Wortis' cases of dementia praecox, the patients were suffering with acne of the face, and after the insulin shock the acne cleared up. Despite the small number of cases (six), all the patients were so definitely benefited that these satisfactory results should be made known.

It is possible that both dementia praecox and acne are associated with some common disturbance of the digestion and handling of starch by the body processes and this disturbance is corrected or removed by the use of the insulin.

While Dr. Wortis does not recommend insulin shock treatment, which so greatly reduces the sugar in the blood, as the routine or regular treatment for acne, he considers it possible that keeping the blood low in sugar by small regular doses of insulin, under suitable precautions, may prove serviceable.

Don't Marry the Man

By JEANNE BOWMAN

Chapter 31
'They're through'

It was impossible to be gay, or even happy in such surroundings, yet Kathleen felt a load had been lifted from her heart and that it was winging up part of the singing cables, past the top-most light on the superstructure and on to the mountain stars.

"Have you talked to Donald at all?" Bridget continued.

"Yes," Kathleen answered slowly. "First he told me what he thought of me, then, when I could catch my breath, I told him in equal detail what I thought of him. We didn't seem to care for each other," she concluded dryly.

"Tell me," demanded Bridget. Kathleen told her, told her more than she realized.

"That explains so much," Bridget observed when she had finished. "Kathleen, have you any idea where Donald was at the time the alarm was given?"

"I overheard Kit-Smyth dictating a letter to father. He said he was at a flying field out of Carleton."

"But you don't know why he was there. Then listen and see if you can understand why Donald talked to you as he did. When you're engaged you'll understand how time flies without you being aware of it. Norman and I hadn't time for anything but one thing until dinner was ready, then Donald came in and asked where you were. I felt conscience-stricken and told him you hadn't come over yet. He went after you. He found the note you had left for me. I don't know what you wrote, but there was something in it that sent him flying some place."

Kathleen smiled ruefully. "I congratulated you on your engagement to Donald and told you I was leaving. I only reached Balmy's. He made me come in and we had a long talk. He told me about the feud, everything."

Bridget frowned in concentration. "I'm picking things together," she said. "That was it then. He thought you had left for New York. He went after you. Don't you see, dear, Donald was rushing after you to bring you back because he loved you. He was giving up every MacDonald tradition and prejudice because you meant more to him than they did. And in this mood, this eagerness to offer you everything he had, Kit-Smyth found him. I don't know what Kit-Smyth said but it's safe to believe he destroyed this image Donald worshiped. And Donald, heartbroken over the disaster and breathless over you, came straight from Kit-Smyth to you."

Kathleen nodded. "I know how he felt because I felt just like that. I've laughed a lot over 'mortal wounds and stabs in the heart,' but they're real. Bridget I felt as though I'd been mortally wounded. I didn't care much about living for a while."

Abject Defeat
BRIDGET stood up. "Let's go over to the commissary. I'm cold and hungry and I'll bet you haven't had any dinner."

Kathleen followed her out she was not looking towards the big building, her glances were searching the few men around the mouth of the mine, looking for one.

Norman found the girls in the commissary. He was taking Bridget home.

"You'd better get some rest, Cleo, they won't be through before mid-morning."

The name Cleo sounded strange to Kathleen, then she caught the import of what he had said. "Mid-morning?"

Six A. M. had been Balmy's deadline; thirty-six hours "Where's Donald?" she asked.

Norman gave her a quick searching glance. "Below I can't pry him loose. He's wrecking himself with worry."

Kathleen made her decision as they drove away. She would go down there to him.

She couldn't. The technical experts were in charge now, the trained rescue crews from the United States Bureau of Mines. They needed the skips.

Kathleen looked at the objects they were carrying and shuddered. Canvas cots and canvas bags. The bags would be needed if they broke through too late.

The mine doctor rushing along stopped and looked at Kathleen. "Go to bed, girl," he ordered. "I'm setting up an emergency hospital on the 1580 level. I'll need the girls down there. I'll need you here, get some rest."

"But the hospital down there... what does it mean?"

"It means we're preparing for life," the man answered stoutly. "And the only life there'll be left will need resuscitation in the shortest possible time."

Kathleen nodded. The medical men were prepared to save minutes. Time was that precious.

She knew she couldn't sleep, but she did to awaken with a start and she saw the sun high in the heavens. She sat up alarmed. A deathly silence hovered over the place.

No one was in the hospital, no one even in the emergency room.

Rike Grips on Jail Doors
Cleveland, O. (AP)—Cuyahoga county authorities are feeling better these days, now that they've found a satisfactory remedy for "jail door bands." Principally affected by the "occupational disease" were jailers, who opened the barred doors at the jail entrance many hundred of times daily. Bicycle handlebar grips installed on two bars of each door, solved the problem of painful callosities.

China Still Has A Way Out

By The AP Feature Service
If Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek really means to continue blocking the Japanese (after losing rich Canton and strategic Hankow in one week), he still has a choice to get the supplies vital to his army. For ancient, well-traveled caravan trails lead to Russia and India, and one railroad to French Indo-China.

Only one-fourth of China has been lost to Japan, but that one-fourth has one-half the population, the rich seaports, fertile valleys, virtually all the factories and mills, and many of the mines. Chiang's China, its provisional capital at Chungking, has a population of 200,000,000; some 3,000,000 soldiers; large agricultural and grazing areas; and rich mineral deposits. Tibet, Sinkiang and Mongolia are independent of China proper.

Sundown Stories

By Mary Graham Bonner

The Witch Caves
YES, it had grown very dark in Puddle Middle, and as they all looked out into the night one by one saw the witch as she flew past the window on her broomstick. She had on a funny tall hat, and a shawl, too.

Only Willy Nilly had not had a chance to see her as yet and now he looked out of the window.

The witch flew past once more. "She's not a very big witch," said Willy Nilly.

"Big enough," quacked little Yellow Beak.

"Let me see, let me see," continued Willy Nilly, as he turned away from the window. Then he laughed.

"A Puddle Muddler is missing," he exclaimed.

"What?" they all asked. "What do you mean?"

"Do you mean?" began Rip, but all the other Puddle Muddlers were saying:

"It must be! It must be! What a rogue. What a mischievous fellow. But that's pretty clever."

Now Willy Nilly was calling out of the window:

"Come down and tell us how it feels to be riding a broomstick, Witch Christopher. It must be rather uncomfortable flying for you. You could join us and park your broomstick by the door."

A loud cawing laugh came from the "Caw."

And now the witch came flying down and landed on the window sill.

"Shall I remove my shawl?" asked Christopher, "and my hat, and shall I return the broomstick to its proper place?"

"I'm not afraid of the witch," quacked little Yellow Beak, and laughed. "I only was at first for the least little tiny bit of a second."

Tomorrow—"The Witch Explains."

Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—Did you know that: Your tonsils can be toasted out?—

That short wave radio treatments can cure gonorrhea, paresis, relieve many types of arthritis, colds and some types of skin eruptions?

That you can be thoroughly exercised physically on a hospital cot?

It comes under the head of physio-therapy, which was given impetus by the World War now it captivates medical men.

An exhibit of the various mechanisms for performing the treatments came to Washington and we looked it over. Strangely, the most important phases are simply advancement of two of mother's old remedies. Hot water bottles, hot baths, and massage.

How To Raise A Fever
BUT the old fireside systems won't turn the trick. Masses of hot water bottles can be applied until the skin burns without materially benefiting arthritis.

Here is the new principle. Some disease bacteria, such as gonorrhea, begin to die off when body temperature reaches 106 to 107 degrees. The new-fangled processes simply produce an artificial fever.

A spray bath or vapor bath at a temperature of about 110 degrees, if applied for some time, will bring an artificial temperature of 106 or above and hold it there as long as the physician decides it is wise or necessary. It may be two hours; it may be as much as 12. At the end of that time you may be cured of an infection of gonorrhea. Cures may come after treatments in other ailments.

It isn't quackery. Mayo Institute uses it, as do Johns Hopkins, Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, and other major hospitals.

Enter The Radio
BUT there is another way of doing the same thing. It was discovered that short wave radio waves poured through the body will also bring up the temperature. Dr. Harvey Cushing, famous Boston brain surgeon and father-in-law of Jimmy Roosevelt, was a pioneer in the experiment.

The radio system has special advantages. It can be applied to particular spots, such as shoulders, legs, or face to raise the temperature through the affected area. We tried the radio system on our own manly chest and could feel the warmth clean through to the coat lining in the back. It reaches deeply, muscular infections and bone bruises. Colleges are buying the machines to repair battered football players.

Remember those electric devices in the old pool rooms on which you could get an electric shock? Well, they have perfected them to exercise people. Muscles of broken limbs can be toned up by simply touching the device to the skin in certain spots. No longer do the muscles atrophy while in splints.

Now that you know about these things don't try them on yourself without getting the advice of your physician. A few degrees too much fever-therapy becomes simple boiling.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—There are many hilarious moments among the new crop of plays on Broadway, but the one that gets the most prolonged chuckle is that scene in "Knights of Song" where Queen Victoria is debating the advisability of forming an alliance with Germany.

Her statesmen aren't sure Germany would make a desirable playmate for the empire, but Victoria thinks otherwise. "Germany is our natural ally," she argues, "she is never aggressive!"

Later in the same play, which is devoted to 30 years of the careers of Gilbert and Sullivan, Gilbert is brooding over his increasing waistline. He doesn't want to become too fat.

There is no accounting for the things that will make audiences laugh—even the authors don't know beforehand—but here is a line that convulses the audience at "Abe Lincoln in Illinois."

In this scene the lumbering and gawky Lincoln is being told that a very charming young lady from Kentucky is interested in his career. Her name is Mary Todd.

Says Abe: "The Todds of Kentucky are very aristocratic people. They sell their name with two d's. Which is amazing, has always been able to get along with just one."

Signs of the times: Clergyman on the 7th Avenue express reading "My Son, My Son" between calls, reading "My Son, My Son."

Eddie Duchin brooding over a breakfast of fried chicken and looking so sad you'd think the world was against him. Mike Jacobs, the promoter, hurling his cigar to the sidewalk in disgust. "That's the second time it's come out on me and it cost $5

Dewey 'Caravan' Excites Interest All Over Ulster

Enthusiasm in the "We'll Do It With Dewey" campaign which is being waged by the local Dewey Caravan touring Ulster county daily is rapidly increasing and as the caravan passes from hamlet to hamlet there is evident an increasing spirit of interest in the issues which are being discussed by the speakers. Even in the small communities where it was expected but a handful of residents would turn out to listen to the short talks, there has been unexpected crowds each afternoon.

The opening evening meeting at Wallkill Tuesday was very well attended and great enthusiasm shown. Wednesday evening at Saugerties the caravan concluded its day's tour with a rousing meeting and this evening the day's tour through Hurley, Stone Ridge, Accord, Kerhonkson, W. Saugerties, Napanoch, Monticello and Lackawack will come to an end with a mass meeting at 7:30 o'clock at the Ellenville public square.

All along the routes the Dewey Caravan has been greeted with the greatest enthusiasm and indications are that the "Ulster county by 10,000 votes" goal will be reached and exceeded.

In the various communities local speakers discuss the campaign issues, local candidates make their appearance and discuss local issues and at the Woodstock Playhouse this evening speak for the State Republican ticket. Harry H. Flemming, Republican candidate for surrogate, Arthur H. Wicks, Republican candidate for state senator and Henry R. Bright will be the speakers.

At the City Republican Club's final meeting before election Major Simmons will be the speaker from Republican State Headquarters and Roger H. Loughran, N. LeVan Haver and others will speak on local matters. When the Caravan left Kingston shortly before noon Wednesday there was a considerable crowd present to witness the start. Again today the start of the Dewey Caravan was the signal for enthusiasm and the gathering of a large crowd of spectators who were attracted by the sound of the loud speaking device which is used in making addresses along the route through the county.

The tour will take in East Kingston at noon, followed by meetings at Lake Katrine, West Hurley, Shokan, West Shokan, Olive Bridge and Samosville. At 5 p. m. there will be a mass meeting on Main street, Port Ewen. Friday evening at 8:15 will also speak at Firemen's Hall, Glasco, with Harry H. Flemming, J. Edward Conway and Supervisor Robert Snyder of Saugerties as the speakers.

The income-tax evader is virtually unknown in Japan. Government figures recently issued showed that 99.44 per cent of all taxable Japanese have sent in the checks for 1937.

Air-Conditioning to Be Year-Round Joy

University of Illinois Engineers Study Subject.

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, ILL.—When year-around air-conditioning becomes as common as winter heating today, many of the agencies prominent in improving heating will also be found to have been prominent in developing 12-month air-control. In the forefront of these is the University of Illinois.

Results of research by Illinois engineers is embodied in practically every new heating installation made today. This work, begun at Illinois some two decades ago, is continuing, and right along with it is going research in year-around air-conditioning from a winter-time job to a year-around control.

Not only are engineers working on the mechanical side of air conditioning, but physicians in the college of medicine are studying its effects upon humans and utilizing it in their studies. Likewise, college of agriculture scientists, placing animals in air-conditioned chambers, are learning facts about life processes of great value to humans.

Five Factors Involved.

Complete air conditioning, explain the University of Illinois engineers, involves five factors:

1. Summer cooling and winter warming.
2. Summer dehumidification and winter humidification.
3. Circulation of the air.
4. Removal of dust and odors.
5. Introduction and conditioning of outdoor air.

For student training and for research, they have built a special piece of apparatus in which these factors can be varied and handled in various manners. This 42-foot long apparatus, two stories high, provides several methods of either summer or winter air conditioning. The apparatus is the most complete of its kind.

Another provision for year-around air-conditioning study is a huge insulated room containing a complete portion of a house. Within this room, which has cork walls eight inches thick, coils and fans can produce winter conditions as cold as 5 below zero or summer as hot as 110 above.

With these conditions produced at will and maintained for as long as desired, the research men can make careful and accurate studies of either heating or cooling within the room of the house portion.

'Home-Coming' at Kiwanis Honors Roger Loughran

A "home-coming" for Roger H. Loughran, lieutenant governor for the Second District of Kiwanis, was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday evening when an inter-club meeting which replaced the usual Thursday weekly dinner was held. Not only was it a "home-coming" for Governor Loughran but it was a "ladies' night" with delegations from Beacon, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Port Jervis Kiwanis Clubs present.

As announced by the committee: William Byrne, Morris Samter and L. C. Doty, the affair was a dinner-dance with no attempt at "speech-making." There was a program of entertainment by the Lyric Quartet of Saugerties, which was heard in three groups of three numbers and a group of readings which was thoroughly enjoyed by the 125 Kiwanians and their lady-folk.

Roger H. Loughran, the retiring lieutenant governor was presented and briefly he thanked the club for the home coming demonstration. He said he had made every effort to do his best as the district official and he was glad he had been given the opportunity to serve Kiwanis in the important capacity.

Lieutenant Governor-elect Harry Hopper of Beacon was next presented and he replied briefly expressing the hope that he would be able to carry on the duty of office in the same capable manner as the retiring official.

Col. William J. Burnett, a former lieutenant governor, and Welfare Commissioner of Poughkeepsie, was introduced and briefly spoke of Kiwanis. He spoke of the high type of men connected with the movement and said it was a pleasure to work with such an organization in every community where a Kiwanis Club is located.

Past Governor Walter Lloyd of Poughkeepsie, who presented Kingston Kiwanis Club with its charter in 1921, was also a distinguished visitor who was presented and briefly addressed the gathering.

At the conclusion of the turkey dinner the Kiwanians and their ladies were given the opportunity to dance to the music of Zucca's orchestra, a pleasure which was taken advantage of until midnight.

Slayers of King's Deer Suffered Chain Penalty

The Lorna Doone country of England's Devonshire, often called the fairest in the island kingdom, is set high on the green hills of Devon, which rise abruptly from the Bristol channel.

Visitors wonder why the roads are so narrow, and the hedges alongside so high. It is because in olden days the deer could eat the peasants' crops, but if the peasant should kill or ever harm the king's deer hanging in chains would be the punishment. Hence stone and hedge barriers were erected around each field to keep out the deer, relates a correspondent in the Los Angeles Times.

All that remain as reminders of the Doones in the pleasant valley are a few moss-covered mounds, ruins of the foundations of the village of eleven stone cottages.

Nearby is Oare, a small hamlet of thatched cottages clustered around an old stone church. It was in this place of worship that Lorna Doone was shot by Carver Doone at the climax of her marriage to John Ridd.

From their valley fortress the Doones made raids on unwary travelers crossing wild and lovely Exmoor forest. This gorge and heath-covered expanse of rolling hills and hollows was until a few years ago the scene of many a holdup. Gibbet hill is pointed out as the place where the Doones were executed, bringing about the peaceful reign.

Grading of Wool

The grading of wool referred to as the blood system presumably originated in the early days of the sheep industry when the Merino was the fine-wool sheep on American farms. Merino wool was called "fine." All other wools were ranked according to their relative degrees of coarseness as compared with Merino. Apparently the terms used to designate the wool originally indicated the fractional quantities of Merino blood in the sheep that grew the wool of those types.

FRIED'S BODY BURNED HERE SAYS FBI CHIEF

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, announced in New York the solution of the kidnap-murder of Arthur Fried of White Plains, N. Y., and two previously undisclosed kidnappings. This official FBI photo shows the furnace of a New York fraternal organization's lodge where Hoover said the body of Fried was cremated. Fried disappeared from his home, December 4, 1937. "Certain ones" of the four men being held as suspects are also under suspicion in kidnaping of two Brooklyn men who were ransomed without their disappearance having been made public Hoover said.

FBI REVEALS THEIR KIDNAPING

Arrest in New York of four men J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, said constituted a kidnap gang revealed that Norman Miller, 19 (left) and Benjamin Farber, 33, (right) both of Brooklyn, had been abducted and released for ransoms, respectively, of $14,000 and $1800.

Clothes Hamper Catches Fire

There was considerable excitement for a few minutes this morning when a metal clothes hamper, filled with clothes, in a room on the second floor over the Grunewald Bakery at 145 Hasbrouck avenue, caught fire from some unknown cause, filling the building with smoke.

The fire department responded to an alarm of fire turned in at 8:52 o'clock from Box 44, and when the firemen reached the scene they found that Charles Grunewald and Joseph Rudolph had picked up the metal hamper and thrown it out of a window. The firemen used chemicals to extinguish the fire.

The burning clothing in the metal hamper had heated the hamper to such an extent that both Grunewald and Rudolph sustained burned hands in lifting it from the floor and throwing it out of the window.

Robert, the four-year-old son of Charles Grunewald, was asleep in a bedroom adjoining the room in which the hamper stood and the smoke caused the boy to choke and gag, but he was not seriously injured by the smoke. He was carried from the room before he had received the full effect of the heavy smoke that filled the upper floor of the building.

Big Husking Bee

Sioux Falls S. D., Nov. 3 (AP)—In the slippery mud of a South Dakota corn field 21 farmers from 11 states, were on edge to battle today for a silver trophy, $100 and the honor of being enrolled in agriculture hall of fame as the 1938 national corn husking champion. Ray Hanson of Blenheim Lake Minn., the 1937 champion, was rated a good chance to repeat. Minnesota fans asserted, however, he would have to beat Ted Balke, a former champion, who posed out Hanson in the Gopher state contest.

Announcing the NEW FORD V-8 CARS for 1939

GREATER VALUE for every motorist has been built into the two new Ford V-8 cars for 1939. They further express the forward-looking policy of the Ford Motor Company—traditional Ford dependability and economy plus progressive engineering.

Each car is distinctive in design, yet each has something of the fine streamlining of the Lincoln-Zephyr—recognized style leader for the industry. Interior appointments are in keeping with outward beauty. Every detail is styled for good taste and good service.

Both are big, roomy cars, equipped with hydraulic brakes and powered with the V-8 engine that gives you so much extra smoothness. This year the quiet performance of the V-8 engine has been matched by the new quiet built into every part of the car.

The 1939 Ford cars bring you greater riding ease on every road. New seat construction, flexible transverse springs, and big hydraulic shock absorbers provide triple-cushioned riding comfort.

Both 1939 Ford cars are Ford-priced for greater dollar value. Both bring new meaning to the Ford phrase, "The Quality Car in the Low-price Field."

Sleeping Beauties

By the (4) Feature Service
For two and a half years Patricia Maguire of Chicago was a sleeping beauty. A beautiful blonde, she was 27 years old when she was stricken with a severe case of epilepsy. She went to sleep in 1922. Before long a whole nation was reading about her strange case. Patricia, it is said, did not move for a year. Now, after a long illness, she is a sleeping beauty.

SHE LOOKS HEALTHY but Maxine Varrington, 5, of Erie, Pa., has just started her fourth year of unbroken sleep—with eyes wide open. Maxine, shown with nurse, is fed liquids. She lives in hospital.

AFTER SEVEN MONTHS' sleep, Mary Ellen Reardon, 3, of Chicago, now cries occasionally and but her eyes when an object is moved in front of them. She was stricken last March 25, after a cold. Apparently in good health otherwise. "Takes liquids and soft drinks. Lives at home."

THIS BEAUTY WOKED UP last April after sleeping three weeks. She is Barbara Jean Herpich, 4, of Chicago, shown during early moments of consciousness as she embraced her mother. Barbara Jean's attack followed measles. Her physician, after calling the case unusual, says she is "around and playing, well on the road to normalcy."

Rayon Made From Various Solutions of Cellulose

No one person deserves the entire credit for inventing rayon, which is the recognized trade name in the United States for all synthetic fibers formerly known as artificial or imitation silk, regardless of the process of manufacture, asserts a writer in the Indianapolis News. The lustrous filaments of the fiber are made from various solutions of modified cellulose, such as wood pulp in a proper solvent, which is pressed or drawn through orifices and solidified by means of a precipitating medium.

In 1864 Robert Hooke, an English experimental physicist, published a book in which he described a microscopic examination of natural silk and suggested the possibility of producing a similar thread artificially. Rene Reaumur, the French scientist, made a similar suggestion in 1734. Perhaps the first patent for the use of nitro-cellulose for the specific purpose of manufacturing imitation silk was that taken out in 1855 by Georges Audemars, of Lausanne. The rayon industry, however, did not really begin until after 1884, when Count Hilaire Chardonnet, of France, patented his method of imitating the silkworm in the production of a filament of cellulose.

Meaning of Name Duncan
Duncan, a Celtic name, means "dark chief." It should not, therefore, be conferred on a blond boy. Duncan Phytz (1768-1854) American furniture maker of Scottish birth, is rated the equal of the great English cabinetmakers. He learned cabinet-making and wood carving in Albany (where his family settled on coming to this country when he was 12), started his own shop in New York when he was in his early twenties and was successful from the first, having 100 assistants in his shop. His furniture, of dignified colonial type, harmonizes with American homes of this design. Mahogany furniture was his specialty and the flat acanthus leaf his favorite design.

North Carolina's 1932 turkey crop was estimated to be 10 per cent less than 1931 while that of Virginia, a sister state, was calculated to be 12 per cent greater.

State Amendments Outlined by Wicks For the Rotarians

Senator Arthur H. Wicks gave an interesting and instructive summary and analysis of the provisions of the amendments to the State Constitution upon which voters will be called to pass at the coming election Wednesday. Senator Wicks appeared as the speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Kingston Rotary Club, held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Senator Wicks prefaced his remarks with the statement that the coming election was one of the most important in the history of the state, with voters called upon to pass upon a form of government under which they would have to live for many years. He urged all to study the amendments and vote on them according to their best judgment. In order to make sure he suggested that before voting for the candidates voters register their votes on the amendments.

It was stated that there were only about three controversial subjects before the constitutional convention, on which party lines were tightly drawn. Noting that former Governor Smith brought up his old proposal for consolidation of counties and counties, other things that there would be a saving in cost of government, he told of Senator Pearson's reply. Observing that there was a good deal of sentiment connected with the old divisions of territory, Senator Pearson asked the former governor, "suppose some day the legislature was to change the name of Oliver street to Roosevelt avenue, how would you feel?"

Discussing the amendments Senator Wicks said in part: "No. 1 is the 'catchall' amendment, containing numerous proposals. Among the points covered are equal protection of laws regardless of race, color, creed or religion; guarding against unreasonable search and seizure; and wire tapping; free bus transportation for denominational school children, etc."

(Considered this a vital amendment, endorsed by both parties, and saw no reason why it should not be approved.)

No. 2—Reapportionment. Was a very controversial subject. Means much to the people of the state regardless of policy. Is based on the theory that territory as well as population is entitled to consideration. Noted that U. S. Senators are apportioned under that principle. Increases terms of state senators from two to four years with idea that they will not be swayed so much by passing sentiment and necessity for facing re-election and will act as a balance to the Assembly elected every two years.

No. 3—Grade crossing. Vital to people of Ulster county. Would govern expenditure of $179,000,000 left out of $300,000,000 bonds authorized for grade crossing elimination. Railroads would pay for direct benefits received by eliminating crossings, but not more than 15 per cent. A most important amendment to the people of Kingston and Ulster county.

No. 4—Housing. Permits state to loan municipalities on their 10.01% up to $300,000,000 for slum clearance and low rent housing.

(Seen as applying largely to New York city and therefore what might be called a "local" affair. Admitted low-rent housing is badly needed in New York city). Her physician, after calling the case unusual, says she is "around and playing, well on the road to normalcy."

No. 6—Judiciary. Was put over by sheer logic of former Governor Smith. Allows appeal to courts from rulings of boards.

(Was for this amendment 100 per cent as it gives business men right to appeal from arbitrary rulings of boards. Objects to the idea of a board being the judge, prosecutor and jury).

No. 6—Applies to labor and hours of work. Senator Wicks said that he did not know of anybody who opposed the provisions of this amendment, but that they were now in the statutory law and belonged there, not in the constitution. Did not favor tying up the hands of future generations by placing unyielding provisions regarding hours and wages in the constitution as 20 years from now conditions may be entirely different.

No. 7—Proportional representation. Was an 11th hour proposition in the constitutional convention. At present law, in New York city, provides for minorities being represented. People there adopted it in 1937. Adoption of this amendment would violate the home-rule principle. If the people of New York city want proportional representation they should have it.

No. 8—Social welfare. The Senator said that the only difference between the amendment and the present statutory law is the addition of sickness. The Senator introduced the first welfare law in the senate, as an emergency measure. This amendment places the law in the constitution.

No. 9—Applies to New York city debt limit and permits city to purchase transit facilities for $315,000,000. Senator spoke of the interest people have here in New York city priorities and corporations and an added tax on real estate there affects such persons.

At the meeting Wednesday, President Pemberton announced that the Kiwanis Club would be invited to hold their meetings which falls on Thanksgiving Day with Rotary on the preceding Wednesday.

Guests present Wednesday were George Whitaker of Newburgh, John Carson of New Milford, Louis Weiner of Kingston, and K. R. Schaaf of Orange, N. Y.

Flemming Is Able To Fill Position

Residents. Besides his self-made success in the law, his career of public service is equally appreciated. His voice and good influence in the lives of our young men, our public schools, our young men's association, our hospital and our other institutions has known no denominational or racial restriction. He has helped wherever his leadership and influence, his time and means were needed and always with a large measure of success.

Finding time to devote himself to municipal affairs, Mr. Flemming can point to service on the board of education of the city of Kingston for 15 years. For 14 years he was president of that board. He has also served on the board of water commissioners, on which board he also served as president. For a number of years he has served as a member of the board of managers and treasurer of the Kingston Hospital. He also served on the board of directors of the local Y. M. C. A., the new building having been erected while he was president of the board. He also served Kingston as corporation counsel.

In 1902 Mr. Flemming married Miss Harriet W. Sherwood. She is the daughter of the Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, at one time pastor of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. They have two children, a son and a daughter.

The people of Ulster county know Mr. Flemming, they know his extensive knowledge of the law, his true sense of justice, his kindness and understanding, his possession of the qualifications to make an ideal surrogate. Voters of Ulster county will place him in this important office by a handsome majority.

Judge Hasbrouck's Tribute

The Hon. C. D. B. Hasbrouck, former Justice of the Supreme Court in nominating Mr. Flemming as the candidate of the Republican judicial convention a few years ago said in part:

"He is truly a self-made man. He has had wide experience as a practitioner in the county, state and federal courts. He is facile princeps in the trial forum and prepares and argues with rare success in the Appellate Division and in the Court of Appeals. He is the ex-president of the Bar Association of Ulster county. He is treasurer of the Federation of the Bar Associations of the Third Judicial District. He was long president of the board of education of our city, and has served five years as corporation counsel."

"Ulster county holds no better lawyer. He is a man of high character. I commend him to the voters of this district as a candidate worthy of their profound consideration when they come to the ballot box. His candidature means the satisfaction of every reasonable expectation of a people desiring the services of an excellently qualified man for judge. Voters are asked to examine his qualifications."

LESTER J. DICKINSON
Counting on low crop prices

(By The (4) Feature Service)
Des Moines—Two snow-haired militants—one a New Dealer despite an unofficial purge against him, the other a veteran opponent of Roosevelt policies—battle for a United States senatorship from Iowa.

Senator Guy M. Gillette, 59, is attempting the state in an attempt to keep it in the Democratic column where the Roosevelt sweep carried it in 1932.

Former Senator Lester J. Dickinson, 65, is trying to pull Iowa back into the Republican fold, where it rested in comparative serenity for three quarters of a century before Roosevelt.

Gillette, although long known as a liberal, voted against the original AAA, the NRA and the Roosevelt court reorganization bill. In the June primary he found his opponent, Rep. Otha D. Wearin, endorsed by WPA's Harry L. Hopkins and smiled upon by James Roosevelt. But Gillette beat Wearin about 2 to 1.

A week after the primary Gillette and the President lunched together in their shirtsleeves at the White House. Democratic Chairman James A. Farley and other party leaders have assured Gillette of their support.

Mayor Favors Amendment No. 3

For the past quarter century the elimination of the Broadway crossing of the West Shore railroad has been agitated, and several plans have been proposed, and many public hearings held both by the city authorities and the state public service commission. The latest plan now before the state commission is the petition of the city requesting the elimination of all 10 railroad crossings in the city by depressing the railroad tracks under the street.

The plan, of depressing the tracks instead of the street has been consistently fought by the railroad, owing to the cost of the project. It is estimated that the cost of eliminating the 10 grade crossings under the plan presented to the state commission would cost close to $5,000,000.

Mayor C. J. Heiselman when seen at his office at the city hall today stated that he wished to recommend to the voters the approval of Amendment No. 3, the railroad grade crossing amendment, which will be voted on Election Day throughout the state.

The mayor stated that this amendment was particularly important to the people of Kingston, and he urged all voters to vote "yes" on this amendment. He stated it was reasonably certain that all grade crossings in the central section of the city would be eliminated if Amendment No. 3 was carried on Election Day.

Mayor Heiselman said that the elimination of these crossings would save lives and speed up the business of the city, thereby saving thousands of dollars annually. The project would remove some of the glaring eyesores of the city, he said, and give work to hundreds of men.

The mayor urged voters when in the voting booth to remember the three members of the fire department who lost their lives on the Broadway crossing when the fire truck they were riding was struck by a passenger train, as well as all others who have died on the city grade crossings in past years.

Martin's Parents Repeat Belief He Is Kidnap Victim

Federal Agent, However, Says No Elements of Abduction Are Present — Youth Is Held to Two Fortunes

Richmond, Va., Nov. 3 (AP).—Detective Captain A. S. Wright said today that Sydney E. Martin, Jr., missing 20-year-old son of a wealthy Philadelphia family, had been found in Richmond working for an electrical contractor.

Theory Discounted

Philadelphia, Nov. 3 (AP).—The parents of Sydney E. Martin, Jr., 20, missing heir to two fortunes repeated today their belief he had not been kidnapped, but an agent of the federal bureau of investigation said "there are no elements of kidnapping present."

The father, a prominent architect, mentioned the youth's bank account in support of his fears that something has happened to his son, last seen in a Philadelphia night club September 15.

Father said a $15 check the young man cashed the night of his disappearance cleared the bank, but that a remaining balance had not been drawn upon.

That night the young man drove his sister home from a party, then left again in an automobile he owned jointly with his brother.

"He left home to go downtown," said his mother, Mrs. Margaret Fox Martin, "and when he didn't come home the next morning we began worrying—it wasn't like him to do that."

The youth's mother was one of three children to share in the fortune of the late Caleb Fox, prominent banker, who died August 2 having on estate unofficially estimated at more than a million dollars.

The FBI was informed the boy was missing. An agent here said J. Edgar Hoover knows about the case, but added:

"We are not working on it until they can show us proof that there is an actual kidnapping. At the present time there are no elements of kidnapping present—no threatening phone calls, no demands for ransom, no threatening letters."

The state police have been working on the case since the boy disappeared. "Every trail has led into a dead end," said State Police Commissioner Percy W. Foote.

The elder Martin has offered a $300 reward for discovery of the automobile the youth was driving.

Plan Model Prison Like No Other Pen

To Stress Rehabilitation at McNeil Island.

TACOMA.—Alcatraz still gets the publicity, but the United States government has turned to its other island prison for a modern program of convict rehabilitation. The "other island" is McNeil, at once similar to and far different from the dread San Francisco bay rock where "incurable" federal prisoners are confined.

A ten-year building program is under way to make McNeil's 4,400 acres into a penal institution like no other in the federal system. Established more than 80 years ago, the prison has just expanded from a small area to take over the entire island. The government pre-empted 140 private places last year and even dug up the graves of pioneers to continue the expansion. Orchards and tillable lands have been added to the prison farm.

McNeil Island lies in lower Puget sound near Tacoma and like Alcatraz, is separated from the mainland by more than a mile of swirling, cold salt water.

McNeil is low and wooded, with snow-capped mountains on its horizon. Prisoners can see green forests and smell Scotch broom in the air.

Officials at McNeil rely considerably on the natural surroundings to discourage escape attempts.

While Alcatraz is an institution for convicts supposedly beyond hope of reform, McNeil stresses rehabilitation and training. Its aim is to make inmates forget they ever were criminals, and to prevent them from becoming such again. Any convict may learn one of a dozen trades, may attend school or study arts, such as painting and music. Athletics are virtually compulsory, and a good library is available.

Sorority Sisters Beat Men in Intelligence Test

COLLEGE PARK, MD.—Women are smarter than men and sorority women show a higher I. Q. than their non-sorority sisters, according to a survey among students of the University of Maryland, released today.

Delta Delta Delta sorority compiled a point average of 2.89 to nose out its nearest competitor, Phi Sigma Sigma sorority, which led the list in 1936-7 and was second this year with a 2.88 average. Alpha Phi Delta placed third with an average of 2.672.

The highest rating among the men was 2.50 for Alpha Gamma Rho, placing far down the list behind seven sororities. Sigma Alpha Mu had an average of 2.46 and Phi Alpha with 2.35 were second and third, respectively.

The all-sorority rating for women was 2.71, while the all-fraternity rating for men was 2.13. The all-women average was 2.43, while the all-men average was 2.12.

Old Civilization Wiped Out by Oregon Volcano

WASHINGTON.—Hot lava from a volcano wiped out a primitive civilization in southern Oregon 10,000 years ago, according to a report submitted to the Carnegie Institution.

The report was made by Dr. L. S. Cressman, professor of anthropology at the University of Oregon, after he had led an excavation party through caves at Roaring Springs ranch, Paisley and Fort Rock, Ore.

He said he had found two throwing sticks, a bison-hide moccasins and a sun-baked bowl in the Roaring Springs cave. In the three caves he found some 75 sandals charred, apparently, by hot pumice showered from the skies.

Sightless Man Produces Two Dozen Brooms a Day

BLYTEVILLE, ARK.—Asa James, 40-year-old broom maker, who never has seen one of his products, manufactures two dozen brooms daily in his small factory for salesmen who, like himself, are blind.

He says a person can be blind and still specialize on quality. Despite the fact that he works entirely alone and by the sense of feeling, he is an expert broom maker.

He does every job in making the brooms except growing the materials. And he does it quickly and neatly, even to arranging and stitching the straw.

James, who has been blind since he was six years old, has been making and selling brooms since 1916.

Dances as Were Dances Recalled by Old Playboy

WINNIPEG.—Frederic Genton, 81-year-old merry-maker who has celebrated his golden wedding anniversary, laughs at young persons "who complain of being fatigued after an evening of dancing."

Dances in his time, the pioneer said, lasted for days and nights. There was a relief fiddler and dancers were in three groups—dancing, eating and sleeping.

Shoes were a novelty, he said. People would take two or three pairs of moccasins to the dance—and invariably were disappointed if they did not wear them out.

Two Cases Before Cahill

Two cases were brought to the attention of Judge Cahill in police court this morning, one on a third degree assault charge and the other on a charge of disorderly conduct. John C. Shelley, 40, of 387 Broadway, was arrested by his wife on Wednesday on a charge of disorderly conduct. This morning the wife withdrew the charge. Louis Kaman, 34, of 60 Franklin street, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by his sister, Mrs. Barbara L. Kaman, who charged him with third degree assault. A hearing today Kaman was discharged.

Japanese newsboys carry clusters of bells to supplement their cries of "Wuxtry."

Republican Club To Hold Meeting

An expected trend of the negro voters toward Republicanism in New York city and in the state will be one of the subjects taken up at a meeting Friday night of the local Republican Club at Cook's Hall.

The meeting was announced today. Mrs. Bosse Payne, a former president of the State Federation For Colored Women, will be one of the speakers.

Prominent Republicans have mentioned the fact that they have already observed a trend which will mean serious inroads into the hitherto large Democratic majority in New York.

Four reasons have been given for the Republicans' claim to a larger negro vote this year. They are: the fact that Republican initiative is proposing the re-apportionment amendment to the Constitutional Convention; the designation of a negro, the Rev. L. H. King as a representative in Congress from the 21st district; the fight against Tammany rule in some Harlem districts; and a better understanding between negro leaders and the heads of the Republican party in the state.

The sentiment of Republicanism in Harlem has been generally statewide and organizations have been formed throughout the state. Kingston's organization is headed by Mrs. Pearl White.

Philip Elting (Republican equity chairman and Assemblyman J. Edward Conway will also speak. The program of entertainment will include Fred Van Dusen and his mangle and Jean Molyneux, daughter of Sheriff Molyneux, in piano accordion selections.

Socialite Talks Ranch Language

Speaks to Cowboys in Their Own Tongue; Assumes Foreman's Job.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Perfection in the use of ranch language and in a manner to make a real rancher's life up has enabled Mrs. Roma Ware, New York, Paris, Pebble Beach and Del Monte socialite, to make a success of a 3,000-acre sheep ranch in Nevada, she admitted in a recent visit here.

Furthermore, Mrs. Ware, formerly Mrs. Henry H. Wehrname of New York, declared she was getting the "kick" of her life out of it.

"It's a hard life," she admitted, "but I love it. And the natives are marvelous. I have the deepest sympathy for these ranchers who gamble year after year with the harsh elements of Nevada. They are real people."

Ranch Talk a Necessity.

But to make a ranch succeed, Mrs. Ware asserted that you have got to learn to talk "ranch talk" and talk it in a manner that will make things hum.

"I'm learning to talk rough enough now to make the ranch go," she admitted. "You know that it's the language that counts."

"I used to be a lady and say, 'Henry, what are you doing?' But now I stand back and shout, 'Henry, what the — are you doing?'"

"Then, too, I am beginning to know the difference between a cow and a steer."

Mrs. Ware bought her ranch just after winning a divorce at Reno.

The ranch is 32 miles from civilization, "if that is what you call Reno," she said, "and is located near Lake Pyramid."

"I couldn't even spell 'alfalfa' when I bought the ranch," Mrs. Ware declared.

"However, I had a San Francisco architect build me a house of pink-tinted canyon rock, the finest house he has ever built, and with a veranda all around it. From there I can watch the boys work in all the corals. They hate it because I have binoculars and can watch them all the time to see if they work properly. They call me 'old battle ax.'"

Is Her Own Foreman.

"I am thinking even of installing a loud-speaker so that I can scare the life out of them by suddenly bellowing to some loafing worker."

Mrs. Ware is her own foreman.

"I couldn't find a competent foreman," she said. "I found I was paying men to learn. So I decided I'd take over the job myself."

Mrs. Ware boasts of the fact that she has a police badge from the Reno police force, a deputy game warden's badge to keep people from shooting sage hens and possesses an amazing collection of gadgets, including spring tooth harrows, tractors, graders and angle dozers.

"I'm a first-rate 'cat skinner,'" she said, "and every time I see a new government road equipment I look it over for a new gadget for my ranch. I grease my own tractor and I planned my own irrigation system."

"There is only one thing left for me to learn, and that is how to roll my own cigarettes."

Violins Oust Pencils in

Ontario Kindergartens

LONDON, ONT.—Pupils in seven city kindergartens will learn to handle a violin before they become well acquainted with a lead pencil, it was revealed in the announcement that the London board of education has increased the number of its "quarter-sized" instruments to 33.

The addition of the "baby violins" is part of the program to extend musical activities in the primary schools of London. Mindful that more than 1,800 persons attended the minor recitals given by school children last year the musical department will double the number of recitals, E. W. Quantz, music director, has announced.

Indications are that the number studying in instrumental classes will be increased almost as much as they were last year when 569 students took lessons. This was a 25 per cent increase in the number registered the preceding year.

The board of education owns more than 300 musical instruments and gives courses in vocal music as well. Little children practice their violin lessons on the quarter-sized instruments. Last year courses were given for the kindergartens at Ryerson, Lady Beck and Ealing schools. The names of the schools which will be added to the list this year have not yet been announced.

Fraternity House Dog Has Own Meal Ticket
AMHERST, MASS.—Tony, the silken-eared spaniel mascot of Phi Delta Theta fraternity at Amherst college, has his own meal ticket entitling him to 10 hamburger sandwiches a week at Cramer's diner.

Regularly Tony saunters into the diner and makes known his craving to the short-order cook.

The hamburgers are charged to his meal card—which usually is exhausted by the middle of the week. Each Saturday fraternity members renew it.

Don't Be Fooled About Constipation!

Many people, when constipation hits them, just reach for the medicine shelf, dose up with a physic, and try to forget it—till the trouble comes back. And come back it usually does—more and more often—till you get at its cause.

If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are just this fact causes your trouble. Lack of "bulk" and "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and aids elimination.

If that's the reason for your trouble, what you need is a good diet of crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains the "bulk" you need plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B<sub>1</sub>. Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and join the "regulars." Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Built for Damages

Buffalo, N. Y.—The dignity of federal court was upheld at a cost of $175 and a slight delay. En route to court one of four negroes charged with selling marijuana accidentally tore the trousers of Marshal Edwin J. Batt bought him a new pair for $1.65 while another merely telephoned the court to explain the delay.

"Corigan" Ducks

Munich, Ind.—Spring-like weather caused violets and dandelions to bloom and flourish to ripen, but farmer Walter Blanchard said it didn't confuse him until—

He looked up, he said, and saw wild ducks flying north.

Happy Hunting Grounds

Farley, Mo.—It would be hard to convince a certain Leavenworth, Kan., family that a deal Indian is a good Indian.

J. M. Shippey reported he found the family head burying bones taken from an Indian burial mound near here. "We've had nothing but bad luck ever since we got them," the family head said. "What with a tornado that struck Leavenworth last summer and about $999 in money we've lost, it decided to bring the bones back where they belong."

And Permanently!

Denver—When a gunman who forced his way into George E. Auz's automobile told the driver "This is where you start walking," he meant it.

The gunman promptly set fire to the nearby new car.

Miss Jennie Deane is assisting Mrs. Robert Kelder of Accord with her housework.

The following children of the Metacahonts School were placed on the October honor roll: Marion Stone 91; Wallace Mikalonis, 90; Shirley Miller, 81; Frances Deppuy, 81; Milford Libert, 82; Edith Miller, 82; Henry Rauch, 81; William Treadway, 81; Martin Krom, 81. Attendance average, 91 per cent.

HOME BUREAU

Flatbush
The Flatbush Home Bureau will be given its first lesson on Care of the Hands at the home of Mrs. Alvin Palen on Friday afternoon, November 4. Mrs. Haro Osterhout will be the leader. Dayton Battle Looms
Dayton, O., Nov. 3 (AP)—A long legal fight over the closing of Dayton's schools appeared in the making today while President Frank Miller called the board of education to discuss the teachers' adamant stand against returning the 34,000 pupils to their classes on any but a pay-as-you-go basis. The board also was to go to Common Pleas Judge Noll M. Hodapp's court for a hearing on the original petition filed by a dissenting member, Richard Withrow, for an injunction against execution of the closing order.

BUT GERMANY LOOKS TO WEST, TOO

Nazi conquests to the east in Austria and Czechoslovakia have grabbed the world's headlines, but most extensive German military activity has been to the west where, along France's frontier facing her Maginot line, Germany has been building the Siegfried line—termed by Hitler the "most gigantic steel and concrete fortification in the world." Shown are Nazi machine gunners looking to the west—toward France—from within a concrete pillbox at an unnamed spot in the Siegfried fortifications.

GERMANY'S ANSWER TO MAGINOT LINE

France's famed Maginot line facing the German border has induced two years of intense Nazi building activity in construction of an equally formidable line of underground forts—the Siegfried line—facing the French defenses. Here two German machine gunners emerge from one of the new concrete forts of the Siegfried line. Like the Maginot line, the Nazi subterranean defense system boasts complete underground electric plants, water reservoirs, hospitals and living quarters.

The Republicans should gain 60 or more seats in the House of Representatives and half a dozen additional places in the Senate are almost within the grasp of the GOP. These statements are made in the Wall Street Journal by Bernard Kilgore, who today has a final article in a series reporting first-hand impressions from several "strategic" political areas. He sees the Republicans making an impressive showing, even in areas where the party faces Democratic opposition and would New Deal relief votes, providing they bring their campaign to a "fighting finish" and organize a strenuous effort to get out their full strength on Election Day.

The spread between 1937 and 1938 is seen narrowing as reports show that electric power production during the last week in October was only 1.3 per cent below the same week last year. It is now seen quite possible that before the end of the year will exceed the previous record weekly level, established in the period ending September 4, 1937. With electric output at the upgrade, utility earnings should naturally follow and the prediction is made that if the current recovery trend in general business is maintained, fourth quarter earnings of the electric power and light industry will equal or exceed those of the same period in 1937. Reports to date indicate third quarter profits of the power industry at around $96,000,000, or about eight per cent below a year ago. People's Gas Light & Coke Co. will probably consider payment of another dividend before the year-end.

Transactions were in reduced volume on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday, total being 780,000 shares. There was a firmer tendency in later dealings and industrials showed an advance of 0.82 point in the Dow-Jones averages, closing at 152.31. Rails were up 0.16 point, to 31.66. Utilities showed a slight loss, being down 0.04 point, to 23.90. Government bonds were easier and corporate irregular. Cotton modified generally were firm, with wheat closing steady after an early setback and cotton futures showing gains of from one to 13 points.

President Koller of Chrysler Corp. said that immediate outlook for the automobile business is more favorable than it has been for any time since the latter part of 1937. Chrysler directors yesterday declared a dividend of $1.25 and reported indicated third quarter profit of $92,257, or 22 cents a share, vs. $12,971, or 2.28 cents a share in same period year ago. For the nine months to date the company had net profit of $9,671,878, compared with profit of $4,624,212 in the same period last year.

Other net income reports for the quarter ended September 30 included: Bristol-Meyers Co., net of $282,580, or $1.21 a common share, vs. $658,644, or 96 cents a share in the 1937 quarter. Timken Roller Bearing, net of $247,497, or nine cents a share, vs. net of $1,766,245, or $1.15 a share in last year's period. Studebaker Corp. loss of $891,751, vs. loss of $665,941. Evans Products Co., loss of $168,872, vs. profit of $187,336, in the 1937 quarter. Standard Oil of California net of $8,480,446, vs. net of $13,355,627. Thermoid Co., net of $10,037, vs. net of $11,195.

General Rice & Rubber announced disbursement of 60 cents on common. Atlas Powder paid 75 cents on common vs. 50 cents September 10. Timken Roller Bearing paid 25 cents on common. Standard Oil of California paid regular of 25 cents and extra of 10 cents. House Finance Corp. declared a special of $1 a share on common.

Ford Co. announced prices of 1939 cars ranging from $5 to $20 lower than the comparable 1938 models. The company has called 1,500 men to work at its Louisville assembly plant.

Following submission of bids yesterday which totaled $115,400,000 awarded by the Navy for construction of one battleship each to Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corp., Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Corp., and New York Shipbuilding Corp. is seen likely. A fourth ship will be built in a Navy yard.

Kerhonkson Union New York City School Activities Produce Market

A scene centered around one of the most beloved characters in American history will be portrayed Friday in the regular student assembly when the committee in charge will present an excerpt from the play, "Nathan Hale." All of the characters will wear costumes of the period.

The story takes place in the Union grammar schoolhouse, New London, Conn., in 1776, where Schoolmaster Nathan Hale is conducting his class. The dialogue with his sweetheart, Alice Adams, as well as the antics of the pupils should prove especially amusing to the audience.

Ant-Lion Traps Its Food

Man uses pitfalls to trap elephants and other wild animals, but the ant-lion thought of that first and has been using it for centuries. This insect feeds on a variety of others, but ants form its main diet. The ant-lion digs a hole in sandy ground and then buries itself at the bottom, leaving only its powerful mandibles showing. As soon as an ant reaches the edge of the pit, the sand crumbles and the victim tumbles to the bottom. If the ant stops half way and tries to scramble out, the ant-lion pelt sand at it and brings it down until he can grab it with his pincers. The ant-lion then makes a meal of the victim.

Stamps In The News

As episode of Spain's civil war is graphically memorialized on two stamps recently issued by the Loyalist government. They honor the 431 Division, commanded by Lieut. Col. Antonio Bettrau. Hemmed in by Franco's men in a corner of the Pyrenees last June, this "lost division" kept right on fighting and managed to fortify a 400-square mile sector.

The 25-cent stamp, printed in deep green, shows three steel-helmeted Spanish soldiers behind a machine gun aimed across the snowy mountains. The 45-cent chocolate picture two men of the division manning a machine gun, with a different scenic background.

The University of Santo Domingo, reputedly the oldest school in this hemisphere, is observing its 400th anniversary this season. Dominican Republic plans to issue a series of four stamps to commemorate its founding. There will be 1/2, 1, 3 and 7-centavo values, and the university's seal probably will be in the central design.

A crusading journalist who tried his hand at revolution, developed a passionate interest in public education and finally became his nation's president, has recently been honored by Argentina on the 50th anniversary of his death. He was Domingo Faustino Sarmiento (1811-1885).

The portrait of this famous politician-teacher appears on a set of four stamps of restrained design which probably appeared September 11, the date of Sarmiento's death.

Much of Sarmiento's life was spent in Chile because his political beliefs did not jibe with those of the dictator, Rosas. In Chile he edited newspapers, fought for liberal government and public schools, founded a normal school and taught in a university. In 1852 he was helping to overthrow the Argentine dictator in a battle. Sarmiento became governor of San Juan and just after the American Civil War, was sent to Washington as Argentina's minister. While there, he was elected president of his republic for the 1868-74 term. He proved a capable chief executive, keeping the social, political and economic conditions stable. Later, as superintendent of schools for his nation, he was able to realize many of his educational aims.

One of Sarmiento's books (his writings fill 52 volumes) which describes his native land under the yoke of Dictator Rosas, is a national classic, even today.

The set of four Sarmiento stamps consist of 3-centavo green, 5-centavo red, 15-centavo blue and 50-centavo orange. The British West Indian colonies are bringing up the rear guard in issuing "new reign" stamps. Jamaica is expected to produce its set this month. Dominica was a recent contributor to this series.

Snake Pays Victim's Bill

The boy's mother rushed him to the hospital, and after he was out of danger decided it would be a lesson to make him pay his own hospital bill. ### Says Coal, Oil and Gas

Will Last for 100 Years

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — The United States need not worry about a shortage of coal, petroleum and natural gas for "at least another century," even at the present wasteful rate of consumption, according to Dr. Frank C. Whitmore, dean of the school of chemistry and physics at Pennsylvania state college.

The present supply of hydrocarbons "is sufficient for a time long enough for our chemists to devise new ways of supplying them when they are naturally exhausted," he said.

Nature required "millions of years" in the manufacture of coal, natural gas and petroleum, and man is using up the stored supplies at an increasingly rapid rate, Doctor Whitmore said.

"In many cases," he added, "he is wasting them as well as using them. Fortunately, less natural gas is being wasted now than formerly. "Perhaps one of the biggest wastes of hydrocarbons is in imperfect combustion of automobile engines. They burn much gasoline only partly, giving the poisonous carbon monoxide instead of carbon dioxide, which is a product of complete combustion."

Gang Center of Chicago

Is Playground Area Now

CHICAGO. — Chicago's "Little Hell," where 42 men were slain in 18 months two decades ago, is a paradise for youngsters today. Softball, baseball, boxing and bowling have replaced shotguns and still-ettes.

"Death Corner," hub of "Little Hell" by virtue of its high death rate, has lost its reputation in the Chicago avenue police station. But Captain Tom Harrison remembers when the half square-mile on the Near North Side was the hotbed of unsolved murders instead of the home of Seward Park, Ely Beach and numerous playing fields.

"It's all been changed now, even the names of the streets," he said. "And the greatest change has been brought about by doctors and lawyers. They have substituted active sports clubs for the street gangs that formerly provided training in car-stealing and petty thievery."

The Black Hand was the terror of the district during the days in the bootleg trade after prohibition. The young fellows once recruited to fill the gaps in the gunnery ranks are now more interested in Joe DiMaggio than in Al Capone.

Music Club Hears New American Opera

Members of the Kingston Musical Society met at the home of the Misses Mauterstock on Hone street Wednesday evening for the November meeting of the club. The program, which was a study of an American opera was under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Wenderly and Miss Margaret Howe. The opera that was chosen for the evening's presentation was "The Blonde Donna" or "The Plea of Santa Barbara," an opera-comique, the words and music by Ernest Carter.

The libretto was reviewed by Mrs. Wenderly and the musical illustrations were in charge of Miss Howe. As it was impossible to give the whole opera as a dramatic presentation, only the outstanding characters and songs necessary to the continuity of the story were presented.

Taking the part of the leading characters were Mrs. Henry F. Dunbar, Mrs. Clarence Wolford, and Mrs. Raymond Elmgall, members of the Musical Society. They were assisted by Leonard Stine and John McCullough, who sang the male roles. Miss Helen Turner, accompanist, also played the overture arranged for piano. Miss Elmer Mauterstock supplied the musical reading.

Dr. Carter's visit to Santa Barbara, Calif., inspired him to write this opera, the plot of which is woven about the Mission and the Indian insurrection of 1824. The opera has been presented by the New York Opera Comique Company and in 1937 in the Redlands, Calif., Bowl.

At the mission is a young woman, Marina, sung by John McCullough. To the mission for a visit to the festival come Señora Blanca, sung by Mrs. Elmgall, and her two daughters, Marina, sung by Mrs. Dunbar, and Carolina, sung by Mrs. Wolford. Other characters, also sung by Mrs. Elmgall, Marina and Marina fall in love at sight. Marina is made to do penance by copying music in his cell while the rest of the city is at the festival. However, with the aid of Genio, his friend, sung by Mr. Stine, he manages to escape and to meet Marina. A plot by the Indians to overthrow the mission is counteracted by Marina and Genio and the discovery that Marina and Carolina are not sisters and have recently been given the wrong names, and that Marina, the real Carolina, is sister of Marina, all make for the exciting climax.

The musical selections consisted of opening and closing choruses, duets, solos and arias. As the story was told by Mrs. Wenderly, the musical illustrations were given in their proper occurrence.

During the business meeting reports of the state federation luncheon and forum on "What is Wrong With American Music," held last Saturday at the Great Northern Hotel, New York city, were given by Mrs. Lloyd LaFever, Mrs. Herbert Bishop and Miss Margaret Howe. Mrs. William Macgregor Mills, a member of the board of directors of the state federation, reported on the board meeting held in October.

Mrs. Arthur P. Sheldon and Miss Helen Sheldon were admitted to membership. At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served by the hostesses for the evening, Mrs. Mortimer B. Downer and Miss Caroline Port.

Church Play Shows Well Trained Cast

A well trained cast of 10 characters presented "Here Comes Charlie" Wednesday evening in the chapel of the First Reformed Church to a fair audience. Under the direction of Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool, the play will be repeated Friday evening.

The action of the play takes place in an interior scene. Clear voices and good diction were apparent in the majority of the players. Larry Elliott, a young business man, played by Henry Page, has to adopt "Charlie" as the result of a promise made to an old Ozark several years ago. "Charlie" arrives, a girl, a native of the Ozarks, and many complications set in and are resolved in the first two acts. After a lapse of a year, in the third act, "Charlie," played by Caroline McGreevy, becomes rich, has been away to study, and returns a cultured, beautiful young woman. The usual romantic element is present throughout the play.

Caroline McGreevy has a good speaking voice and kept in her character throughout the play. Other histrionic honors should be given to Henry Page, Clifford Miller and James Scott. The play has good lines and provides a pleasant evening of entertainment. The dresses worn by the women actors were particularly nice looking.

Between the acts Miss Jean Molyneux played a medley of popular selections on the piano accompaniment.

What Have We Here?

It's no wonder you're a bit puzzled.

Almost anything can be hidden under a flaky biscuit crust. You, as a homemaker, will soon know the answer because I'm going to give you the recipe. But do make the dish and surprise your family!

You've probably already noticed the various elements in the illustration. Well, they're the essentials to a complete meal—tomatoes for salad, pickles and ketchup to add a bit of zest, and mince meat pie for dessert. (And here's a secret. For the pie, I used a prepared pie crust mix and canned mince meat. Ten minutes to make—30 minutes to bake—and was it good!)

ALL-IN-ONE-DISH*

1/2 pound sausage meat or ground lean pork or beef, 4 cups canned baked beans (without pork), 3 tart cooking apples, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1/2 cup water, soup stock or canned tomatoes, and 1 recipe baking powder biscuits made with 1 cup milk to give drop biscuit consistency.

Brown sausage meat without extra fat, using 1 tablespoon fat to brown other ground meat. Add baked beans and heat, stirring occasionally until juice is bubbling. Pare, core and slice apples, not too thin, and place a layer of apple over baked beans. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Add liquid at sides of skillet, cover tightly and cook very slowly until apples are tender. Uncover, drop biscuit dough by spoonfuls over apples, covering top completely. Bake in hot oven (450°F.) 20 to 25 minutes or until crust is done and nicely browned. Serve hot.

Another Surprise

Surprises always come in couples, so it seems. For here's an illustration that looks like eggs wrapped in bacon—but we're hiding something, sure enough. The recipe tells the answer and the eating tells the tale.

FISH CAKES IN BLANKETS

1 can ready-to-ry cod fish cakes, 6 eggs, 6 strips bacon and 1/2 cup mashed potato.

Thin out the contents of one can of cod fish cakes with a small quantity of mashed potato. Then shape into cakes, wrap a strip of bacon around each cake and fasten with a toothpick.

Make a depression in the center and drop an egg in each. Place in a shallow pan and bake in hot oven (400°F.) until egg is firm and bacon brown. Garnish and serve hot. Serves 6.

BAKED DATE PUDDING

1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup (1/2 package) sliced dates, 1/2 cup nut meats, 1 egg, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Mix sliced dates and chopped nuts through the flour with the finger tips. Beat egg; continue beating while adding sugar gradually. Stir in milk and vanilla. Add dry ingredients, dates and nuts. Mix thoroughly. Spread mixture in well-oiled shallow baking pan one-inch thick. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour. Cut in squares when cold and serve with whipped cream. Serves 6.

Germany, Italy Guarantee Czechs Borders to Stand

(By The Associated Press)
Germany and Italy were understood today to be ready to guarantee the borders of dismembered Czechoslovakia as a Spanish war incident within sight of England's coast raised opposition shouts in the House of Commons and fears grew of new map revisions in central Europe.

Czechoslovakia now has been cut down to about 38,031 square miles from 54,196 square miles before the Munich peace. Satisfaction of most of Hungary's territorial demands yesterday by Germany and Italy, as arbitrators, cost Czechoslovakia 4,875 square miles in addition to 10,885 square miles of Sudetenland previously lost to Germany and 405 square miles taken by Poland.

But Czechoslovakia Foreign Minister Frantisek Chvalkovsky was said to have returned to Prague with German and Italian assurances for what was left of his country.

Now it is the turn of Yugoslavia and Rumania to worry. Their observers at the arbitration proceedings expressed fear that Germany and Italy would force complete revision of the post-war Trianon Treaty, which with which pre-war Hungary was split among the victorious countries.

Attling Prime Minister Chamberlain was too ill to take the House of Commons demands for a statement on the sinking of the British-chaired Spanish freighter Cantabria yesterday by a Spanish insurgent warship off the English coast.

The incident, within earshot of the east coast near Cromer, caused new opposition cries almost immediately after the prime minister had won an overwhelming vote of approval, 345 to 138, for putting into effect the April 16 British-Italian friendship pact.

On the Spanish front a steady insurgent advance pushed government troops slowly back on the Ebro salient in lower Catalonia. Insurgent advances indicated a government collapse in that sector was only a matter of time but government reports said insurgent gains were slight and "at the cost of heavy losses."

A new army of 300,000 recruits is being trained in Szechwan Province, food is being requisitioned and factories and mines developed as China continues to resist Japanese forces still fanning out slowly from captured Hankow.

13 Race Track Offices Raided

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Detectives today raided 13 offices in Manhattan and one in Brooklyn in connection with an alleged $15,000,000-a-year race track tipping racket.

United States Attorney Lamar Hardy, directing the raids, ordered the detectives to arrest every one found on the premises on charges of using the mails to defraud.

The raids were timed to coincide with the opening in federal court of four sealed indictments naming 70 persons in the alleged race-track racket.

Assistant U. S. Attorney William Power Maloney said that most of the 70 defendants, arrested March 23 and released on bail, had immediately gone back into business and were molesting new victims even while evidence on the earlier charges was being presented to the grand jury.

As in the earlier case, the principal defendants in the indictments opened today were five brothers named Adelman, two of their sons and eight brothers-in-law.

Maloney said the family combination had confessed harvesting $500,000 a year from the business.

Twelve raiding squads swooped down on the Authentic Turf Bureau, Track Cracks, R. B. B. Publishing Company, Pay Off, King Associates, Winner, Paragon, Institute of Raceology, Rex Flagg, Charles J. Bauer, Thorburn Publishing Company, Henry Miller, Sam Stern and Racing Weekly.

Most of the concerns maintained offices on lower Fifth Avenue or Broadway.

Because of illness Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Lane of Kenosha, Wis., were unable to go to the recent wedding of their son, Dr. T. E. Lane, to Miss Eleanor R. Jones in Corning, N. Y. But by a special long distance telephone hookup to the church altar in Corning, they were able to listen in on the

Business Men Lay Christmas Plans

chandise which each store sells, showing under one roof all of the varieties of merchandise which may be procured in Kingston.

The plan was to have displays only with no sale of merchandise from the booths but information available as to where such merchandise was on sale. Under the plan the public might visit the display and there learn that all needed commodities are available in Kingston and there was no need to shop outside Kingston. The plan was taken under advisement, pending determination as to whether the plan could be worked out and suitable arrangements made.

Frank Boice, speaking for the 4-H Clubs of the county, outlined the plans for the County-wide Achievement Day which will be held at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium on November 12 when 4-H officials will present to boys and girls from the clubs "achievement pins" and awards for completed projects. Mr. Boice told the merchants that the state pays $500 and the federal government $375 toward 4-H work in the county and the county government pays approximately $2,500. The work is carried on throughout the county and at the last county fair about $700 in prize awards were given 4-H workers.

The 4-H work is recognized by the State Department of Education and Cornell University, Mr. Boice said. He asked the Merchants Association to co-operate with the rally to be held on Achievement Day. No donations were being asked, he explained, but the 4-H officials would appreciate the merchants participating in the rally.

Mayor Heiselman has given use of the Municipal Auditorium for the rally, he will welcome the boys and girls to Kingston and Mr. Boice asked that the Merchants Association send a delegation to the rally and also supply a speaker. District Superintendent from the four supervisory districts of the county will be present, the city schools will be represented and Assemblyman J. Edward Conway will address the meeting.

Mr. Boice said the meeting would take about 2 hours, including the entertainment program and the boys and girls would be accompanied by their parents in many instances.

In compliance with the request President James Rowe requested that the merchants attend the meeting, that they co-operate in the movement and the Association will be represented by a speaker who will deliver a five-minute talk. President Rowe suggested the name of George Heindel as the speaker for the Association.

Parking grounds, sales promotion work and other matters of interest to members was discussed.

Lessons Engagements

Hide Park, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt kept engagements to a minimum today so he could work on the campaign speech he will deliver tomorrow night. His only "definite" appointment for the day was with Norman H. Davis, Red Cross chairman, who was invited to lunch. Mr. Roosevelt will make his only address of the present election campaign at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in a nationwide broadcast from his home.

Zucca to Give Talk

How a felt hat is made will be demonstrated by Paul Zucca, department manager of Flanagan's, Thursday, November 10, at the monthly dinner meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Business Men's Social Club at 6:15 p. m. Mr. Zucca who started as an apprentice in the Malory Hat Co. in the year 1897 and qualified four years later as a craftsman, will show the many processes through which the fur and other materials are subjected before the hat is shipped to the local clothing stores.

MODES of the MOMENT

by Adelaide Herr

Little fur jackets top many of the smartest frocks seen on Fifth Avenue these fall days. This one of red fur has a collarless neck-line, brief hot body and sleeves worked in spiral effect. It steps out with a sheer brown wool frock and walking hat wrapped up in a veil. (Costume assembled by R. H. Macy & Co.)
